

AMONG THE EXCHANGES OF THE INLAND EMPIRE

May Build a Sanitarium.

The syndicate of local capitalists who are sinking on an artesian well at the edge of the foothills this side of the penitentiary, may conclude to erect a sanitarium.

Their well is now down 624 feet and is flowing by actual measurement, 13,000 gallons per day. The flow is increasing as depth is gained and the water is much hotter. The temperature is now 105 3-5 degrees. A few weeks ago it stood at 90.

The water is highly mineralized, and while it is too hot for bathing purposes it is not hot enough to be used for heating buildings. Work will continue for some time before the plan to get water for heating purposes is given up. At present the water is plenty hot enough for sanitarium purposes and would no doubt pay handsomely if utilized in a sanitarium. The location is nearly 100 feet above the valley near the mouth of a gulch in the foothills and makes a very pretty location for such a building.—Boise Capital News.

Fire at Placerville.

A fire broke out about 2 o'clock this morning in the postoffice at Placerville, and entirely consumed the postoffice and contents, also the butcher shop adjoining, owned by James McDewitt. The central office of the Independent Telephone company in the postoffice was also destroyed.

The cause of the fire has not been given, nor definite amount of the loss on buildings and stock.

A late telephone message from Placerville, says the loss will be over $4000 with $2000 insurance. The fire caught from a stove or stove pipe. The entire town was in great danger and only hard work of everybody prevented the flames spreading.—Boise Capital News.

Fred Hanning Pleads Guilty.

This morning in the district court County Attorney Stillinger filed an information against Fred W. Hanning and John Knudsen for arson at Moscow, and the court directed the sheriff to bring Hanning into court. Hanning appeared in the same deliberate and unconcerned manner that has characterized him during his entire incarceration, and when asked if he wanted an attorney replied in a calm voice that he did not need one. When asked if he was ready to enter his plea, he answered "Yes," and upon the information being read to him pleaded guilty. The court deferred the sentence until later in the term. The court then directed the sheriff to notify Knudsen, through his attorney, to answer as soon as possible and enter his plea to the information filed against him. Knudsen is out on bail and is said to have left last evening for his ranch at Lenoire.—Lewiston Tribune.

Would Put on a Stage Line.

Thomas Ranahan, of this city, has a novel scheme in view and is now in consultation with the director of the concessions of the Lewis and Clark exposition at Portland regarding it. Mr. Ranahan was a driver on the old Overland stage line from Independence, Mo., to Denver and Fort Union in the '60s, and is thoroughly conversant with the business. His plan is to put on a line of six-horse stage coaches from the city to the grounds and for sight-seeing in the city. He will have his stations arranged as they were in the old days for protection against Indians, showing the manner of living of the drivers and employes.—Weiser Signal.

New Mail Carrier.

V. W. Harshbarger has secured the contract to carry the Bickleton Kuhn mail from the bondsmen of E. S. Lawton, who mysteriously disappeared from this section on the fifth day of last September.—Goldendale Sentinel.

CONTRACTS FOR WOOL.

Three-Fourths 1905 Wallowa Clip is Sold.

Enterprise, Ore., Dec. 22.—R. C. Mays, who is buying wool in this county for the S. Koshland Company, this week closed contracts for over 500,000 pounds more wool. This makes about three-fourths of the total wool clip of this county, including 1,000,000 pounds which he purchased last week. The total clip is estimated at 2,000,000 pounds. With 16-cent wool and the prospect of a substantial rise in cattle, good times are prophesied for the people of this county next year.

As a writer of melodrama, Lem B. Parker has struck a popular chord. His latest triumph, "Nettle the News Girl," will be at the Frazier Saturday, December 31.
